MARCH, APRIL, MAY 2013

Celebrating the TOWN OF BERGEN'S "200TH BIRTHDAY"
ON APRIL 13, 2013 MORE INFORMATION ENCLOSED

Town News ... From the Desk of Town Supervisor Donald Cunningham

Knowing that we'll be moving our clocks ahead on March 10th is a welcoming reminder that spring isn't far away. In the mean time it's fair to note that March can still bring some of the worst winter storms and hazardous driving conditions. The Highway Department will continue to respond when service is needed but driving caution must be exercised during those conditions and respect for the plows on the road is appreciated.

Peachey Road Water District Update

Construction is underway for this district with the water main laid for the service section of Peachey Road. Construction will continue North of Peachey Road on Route 19 and will continue so long as weather permits. Restoration efforts will commence in the spring with the project on schedule for substantial completion by July 31st and final close out on Sept. 29th.

For 2013

For the coming year the town has plans to continue building improvements and repairs where needed. Earmarked for 2013 is a badly needed new roof for the Historians Office at 15 South Lake.

Bergen Bicentennial please review the newsletter carefully for dates and events for this historic celebration.

A Farewell Tribute to Richard "Dick" Partridge:

On February 9th the town suffered the loss of Richard Partridge. This loss was balanced by the celebration of his life and his contributions to Bergen. Dick served Bergen in many capacities; as a Village trustee, member of the Zoning Board of Appeals, a Boy Scout leader and an active member of the Historical Society and the Bergen Business & Civic Association. Dick also served our nation in the United States Air Force during the Korean War. Over the past several years Dick spent countless hours working in the Historians office as a volunteer and in 2011 was recognized by the Business & Civic Association for his contributions. It was a great privilege of mine to present this recognition and below is an excerpt from that event.

"Dick steadfastly, routinely, and diligently serves in the Town Historians office, quite frankly, like it's his job. But most residents would never be aware of the invaluable volunteer service and countless hours he has dedicated to the benefit of that office. Researching, documenting, cataloging, filing, and organizing the puzzle pieces that make up the history of Bergen is Dick's official enterprise in retirement. I guess the town should be quite thankful that Dick doesn't play golf so that we may reap the harvest of his retirement time. Town Historian Tom Tiefel told me he was amazed that when he asked Dick for something, Dick simply sat back, thought for a moment, and immediately grabbed the binder with the content sought. Who knows how many hours, maybe days, Tom would have spent searching if Dick didn't have this information so well chronicled."

(memorials to Dick throughout the newsletter)

Dick was my neighbor, so I've know him and his wife Marion for essentially all my life. Always seeing him out in his yard, gardening, planting, pruning, weeding, made him my inspiration to get outside, and those outdoor chores were often interrupted with side yard discussions about life, politics, or general conversation. But one thing was always certain, those moments contained lots of laughter as Dick had a great sense of humor. He also had strong opinions that he wasn't afraid to voice and often expressed thoughts or ideas that might not follow the main stream. He wrote many letters to the editor and frequently received publication in the Daily News, but in contrast to his open expression in conversation and print, he never sought recognition or accolades for his community service. For all his time served in the Historians Office he never collected any compensation, or made any budgetary demands. After hearing his son Bruce describe how Dick didn't drive past a historical marker without stopping to look at it, and how he would read every piece of information during a museum visit, it was clear Dick had a passion for things historical and it was obvious that this passion was further manifest in his service to the Historical Department of the town. Today the vacancy at the desk he once occupied is a void in the department where he served so diligently. For me the void goes beyond that town office as a void in my neighborhood and a void in my life that is filled with the memories of the man that frequently made me laugh and will always be remembered as a great neighbor.

From the Desk of County Legislator *Robert Bausch

Almost daily, we see news reports or references to “why can’t our political leaders agree and work together”. Currently, in NYS that concern is being addressed on at least one major issue: “The Safe Act”. The Safe Act is the legislation passed by the legislature in early January on one day notice requiring limits on firearm availability, size of magazines, who can own a gun and the public disclosure of individuals with pistol permits being some of the most questionable provisions.

The opposition to The Safe Act is significant, crosses demographic and geographical boundaries and is bi-partisan. Recently, I was in Albany at a conference of county legislators and the issue received a lengthy airing. Locally, the county legislators have heard the concerns of their constituents and the issues are not just Second Amendment issues.

A significant issue is privacy. If a pistol owner wants to avoid having their name published in the paper, they must file an opt out form with the county clerk. The forms are readily available at the Town Clerk’s office (also in this newsletter), but why is this policy necessary? If an individual has followed the proper procedure to obtain a permit, why does their personal information become public information? Also, what about those that do not own a pistol? When the list is published, will they be targeted?

There are also issues about how this law was passed, the cost of processing in the county clerk’s office, and enforcement by the county sheriff. The list of issues goes on and on, but the point is that the law is bad legislation.

The Genesee County Legislature, along with a majority of other county legislatures in the state, unanimously passed a resolution requesting repeal. At present, it is unknown whether these resolutions and the opposition of the NYS Sherriff, County Clerks and numerous other groups will have any effect.

What can you do? Please let the governor and the state legislators know your opinion on this law. Fortunately our two representatives, Senator Ranzenhofer and Assemblyman Hawley, voted against the law. Also, if you are a pistol owner, please file an opt out form with the county clerk.

Assessment News by *Anne Sapienza

2013 is a reassessment year for the Town of Bergen. The focus will be on agricultural land values, commercial values and a “smoothing” of home values. The housing market has shown a slight increase in our area but I will be looking at each property to see if an adjustment either up or down is needed. I will be on the road Fridays in my sage green Ford Focus, so don’t get nervous if you see me slowly going down the road.

As always, if your assessment changes you will receive notification by mail and I am always open to talking about it. Please be aware though that if you feel your assessment is too high I will probably request to do an interior inspection.

Thank you for your cooperation and a special 200th Happy Birthday to our town!

Planning is underway for the Festival June 7th & 8th this year with "Something Else" playing Friday night at 6:00 pm and The band "Pop Show" has been secured for our Saturday evening entertainment and we all look forward to Dick Sands chicken barbeque. More information will be available in the next newsletter. If anyone would like to help out or get on the planning committee we meet again at the Village offices on March 20th at noon.

Easter Egg Hunt March 23rd at 1:00 PM

The Bergen Business & Civic Association sponsors this annual event at the Hickory Park in the Village of Bergen.

The BBCA would like to thank the Madziarz family who graciously runs the event every year!

Bergen Historical Society Theresa Pengelly, President

The Bergen Historical Society has recently lost two very active and dedicated members. Richard Partridge passed away February 9th and Velma Jessop passed away March 1st. They will be sadly missed.

Richard and his family want donations given to the Bergen Historical Society for the "Baby Carriage Restoration Project". Everyone was so generous with the amount reaching over $2,300.00. We appreciate everyone's kindness.

Our next meeting is scheduled for Thursday April 4th at 7:00 pm at the Byron-Bergen Public Library, 13 S. Lake Ave. A very interesting program is promised with refreshments following. Everyone is welcome!

Historian News by Thomas Cieiel

I will start by expressing my deepest sympathy to the family of Richard Partridge who passed away on February 13, 2013. "Dick" was a longtime friend, mentor, and colleague of mine serving as the Town Historian's archivist. After serving many years as a Bergen Historical Society member, he expanded his volunteer work with becoming archivist in 1993. He was a daily regular at the Historian's office, and he always managed to keep busy with something. His assistance in research, genealogy, archiving, and preservation were just a few of Dick's many talents. As I hold the seat now as Town Historian, I think of the irony that included Dick. It all began 19 years ago when I moved to Bergen. I was a 21 year old "suburbanite" with big dreams and little interest in history. I was told by my new neighbors that my newly purchased property was steeped in history and I should contact then historian Wanda McVain. In doing so, I was invited to the upcoming historical Society meeting that was to be held at 15 S. Lake St, the home of fellow member Ruth Drews. When I arrived, I was greeted by a gruff man wearing shorts who introduced himself simply as "Dick". He proceeded to ask me if I was lost or needed directions! I was laughingly told by another member not to pay attention to him and to have a seat. Little did I know at the time that 18 years later, my reluctant journey to find out about my property would end where it all began. 15 S. Lake St is now my office building and the gruff sarcastic guy named Dick would become not just be my archivist, but someone I could call a friend. I think back to the first day I was appointed as Town Historian. I walked through the door of my office and Dick was at his desk busy doing his usual archival work. I said "hi Dick! Today is a new beginning for both of us!" Without ever raising his head or making eye contact, he replied, "yes it is...just don't touch anything on my desk or my dish of candy and we'll work out just fine!" I remember nodding my head and smiling only to reply, "you got it!" With that, he said "good now let's get to work because I don't touch computers and YOU have a lot to do!" I must admit, Dick was a stickler for detail so he made what I thought was going to be the daunting task, much easier. If there had been a book "Town Historian for Dummies", I would bet Dick would have been the author! He always seemed to have all of the answers to everything from state regulations to just knowing where a certain picture or document was filed amongst dozens of binders and boxes. Since his passing, I have had numerous people ask me the question, what am I going to now Dick is gone? My reply, Dick isn't gone, you just can't see him as well as you used to! His spirit is alive and well in all of us that knew him and I will continue to apply everything he taught me to my position as Historian. Thank you Dick for the knowledge you shared and the laughs we had but most of all, for being a good friend.

Museum Update: As winter slowly draws to a close, work continues on the Harford Livery Museum exhibits. The finishing touches are being applied to the Fisher & Son Pharmacy. This exhibit proved to be quite a challenge and ran almost 2 months over the scheduled completion date. Trying to get the exhibit period correct and capture that “wow factor” proved more difficult than ever imagined. I do believe it's “mission accomplished” however. The general store, blacksmith's shop, and bank will now have to be completed at a blistering pace to make the grand opening at the end of May. No doubt I will be “burning the midnight oil” by the barrel full and buying energy shots by the pallet over the next few months!!!

On a final mention I will be teaming up with our Village Historian Ray McConnell and the Bergen Historical Society on April 6th for the annual Genesee County History Fair at the Genesee Community College. We will have a booth set up along with 25+ other towns/orgs to promote our town's history and upcoming 200th anniversary. Admission is free and it will run from 10am-4pm. Come on down, show us your support and free tickets will be given out to win prizes throughout the day!

As always, the historian’s office is located at 15 S. Lake Ave in the village of Bergen. If you would like to contact me for any reason, feel free to call 585-494-0080 and I will be happy to assist you!

APPLICATIONS FOR FOOD PROCESSING WORKFORCE TRAINING

PROGRAM AVAILABLE STARTING MARCH 4th

Applications to GCEDC's Food Processing Training Program are available beginning March 4th. The deadline for submitting applications is April 15, 2013. Participants can apply at the Genesee County Career Center, located at 587 East Main Street, Suite 100, East Town Plaza in Batavia, NY or call (585) 344-2042.

Successful program participants will receive a non-credit certificate from Genesee Community College (GCC), which is a permanent record and transcript for completion of the program. Participants will also receive certificates in Lean Systems Six Sigma Yellow Belt (Rochester Institute of Technology), Team Building (GCC), Basic Dairy Science & Sanitation Certificate (Cornell University), and an OSHA Certificate for Safety in a Manufacturing Environment (GCC).

The training program, developed by GCEDC, GCC, RIT, and Cornell University will benefit the area's existing food processing companies. It will also prepare a workforce for companies in the Genesee Valley Agri-Business Park. The training program is funded by an Area Development grant obtained by the GCEDC from the National Fuel Gas Corporation, with additional financial support from the Finger Lakes Food Cluster Initiative-funded by the Department of Labor's Employment and Training Administration in the amount of $38,000 or 28% of the program.

Applicants will need to complete a customer registration form at the Genesee County Career Center, submit an up-to-date resume, and if required, participate in a math/reading test and a follow-up interview.

About the Genesee County Economic Development Center (GCEDC):

The GCEDC is the primary economic development agency in Genesee County, NY. The GCEDC's mission is to be the driving force in fostering community economic success through growth, expansion and retention of our existing business base and to market our community as "business friendly" facilitating new business attraction in order to build a sustainable long-term economy. The GCEDC is also focused on fostering increased economic activity for our community by providing a high quality of life for our residents and their families. The GCEDC enables this by progressively marketing our community to businesses facilitating business capital investment which contributes to the creation and retention of quality jobs. The Batavia/Genesee County region has been recognized for eight consecutive years by Site Selection Magazine as a top ten Micropolitan in the United States and is rated number three by Business Facilities Magazine as a top metro area for food processing and manufacturing growth.

Dog License News: Please make sure your dogs are licensed and their rabies information is up to date.

ANTI-RABIES CLINICS: Dog, Cat and Ferret Vaccinations are free to Genesee County residents. A $5.00 voluntary donation per dog, cat or ferret, is requested to offset expenses. Non-County residents must pay a mandatory $5.00 fee for each dog, cat and ferret immunized. Each animal must be accompanied by someone who can control it.

In memory of Dick Partridge – Below is a letter to the editor that I wrote that appeared in the Batavia Daily News on February 22nd.

Richard (Dick) Partridge was a consistent contributor of “letters to the editor” to The Daily News for many years. He passed away Feb. 9, 2013, at the age of 83. I typed his very controversial letters for him over the last six years. Most of the time I told him, “they aren’t going to print this, Dick,” but I was always surprised when it showed up in print. I went to visit him at the VA a couple of weeks ago and asked him if he had anything for me to type, and still with his sense of humor he said, “I haven’t had a chance to write anything.” I just want to thank The Daily News for always printing his letters. Dick will be sadly missed in the town of Bergen. He was a daily volunteer at the Historian’s Office right until the end.
